They may also cover subjects such as weather and geology provided they are titled to show their significance in the natural world. Images of animals which are domesticated, as well as images of cultivated plants, are ineligible. Images of semi-wild animals in captivity (e.g. zoos or nature reserves), or under other forms of restraint, are acceptable provided this is disclosed in the title.

Minimal evidence of humans is acceptable, such as Barn Owls or Storks adapting to an environment modified by humans, or natural forces, like hurricanes or tidal waves, or reclaiming it.

Any manipulation of the image is limited to minor re-touching of blemishes, exposure, sharpening etc. and must not alter the content of the original scene.

Titles must be specific and correct. Latin titles are not essential if the species can be accurately titled in English.

Any Nature type image that does not fit these criteria must be entered in either the Open Colour or Open Mono. Members' should state the reason why in the title e.g. Composite of multiple images; contains Cloned content; etc.

DIGITAL IMAGES

Straight scans or manipulated images are eligible for any of the above classes, except Nature.

LEVELS

Competitions should be inclusive and give all Members the chance to enter. Whilst there is the competitive element to the competitions, the purpose is also to encourage constructive comment on work entered, improvement and learning in photography, and personal confidence.

Members can self-assess the level at which they initially enter. However, purely by way of guidance, it is not expected that Members with photographic experience and/or qualifications as shown will enter a level lower than indicated. This does not stop a Member from entering a level higher than the guidance given if they feel confident to do so.

The Committee may award a member with promotion to a higher level, on merit.

Once a Member has entered a level, they will remain at that level thereafter.

Advice on determining a suitable entry level can be obtained from the Internal Competition Secretary.
